MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

FROM:

Lee J. Lofthus

Assistant Attorney General for Administration and

Designated Agency Ethics Official

SUBJECT: Waiver under E.O. 13490 and Determination under 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502

The purpose of this memorandum is to waive the restriction in Executive Order 13490 of January 21, 2009, Ethics Commitments by Employees in the Executive Branch, and further to make a determination under the standards of conduct on impartiality, 5 C.F.R.§ 2635.502, that you may participate in a particular matter in which your former firm represents a party, relating to In Re: Special Proceedings, Misc. No. 09-mc-00198 (EGS) which arises from the prosecution of former United States Senator Ted Stevens.

On April 1, 2009, the Department asked the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, Judge Emmet Sullivan, to grant the defendant's motion to dismiss the charges in U.S. v. Stevens, the prosecution of former Alaska Senator Ted Stevens. On April 7, 2009, the Court announced that it was appointing a special counsel, Henry Schuelke III, to "investigate and prosecute such criminal contempt proceedings as may be appropriate" against six Department of Justice attorneys who handled the case. The Department's Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) initiated an investigation into the conduct of the prosecutors when they self-reported the Court's findings of a Brady violation on October 2, 2008. Publicly available documents were gathered but a full investigation was held in abeyance based on OPR's general policy of not proceeding with an investigation during the pendency of active litigation.

You are generally recused from participation in particular matters with parties in which your former firm is or represents a party, under the standards of conduct for employees in the executive branch, 5 C.F.R.§ 2635.502, and under E.O. 13490. One of the DOJ attorneys under investigation by OPR, is represented by your former firm, Covington & Burling. Therefore, absent a waiver from the restrictions in the Executive Order and the standards of conduct, you are recused from participating in the investigation of

In most OPR investigations, counsel for a DOJ attorney would communicate with OPR, but generally not with other DOJ officials. It also usually would not be necessary for the leadership of the Department to be involved in the early stages of an investigation. However, the particular circumstances surrounding these investigations are unusual, and present important issues even at this early stage of the process. As noted, the Court appointed a special counsel to conduct an investigation at the same time the Department's investigation, by OPR, is underway. This is highly unusual, and raises jurisdictional issues, and questions concerning the authority of the special counsel and the proper relationship between OPR's investigation and that of the special counsel. These are important questions that affect the Department's institutional interests, are sensitive determinations, and may include questions of first impression. Such issues will require resolution by the leadership of the Department, including yourself, the Deputy Attorney General, and the Assistant Attorney General for the Criminal Division.

In order for you to participate in these decisions, it almost certainly will be necessary for you to understand and be familiar with the individual investigations of all six Department attorneys, and there likely will come a point where you will need to participate in the investigation of as well as the other investigations. It is not feasible or practical for you to remain recused from one investigation. This would interfere with your ability to make necessary decisions for the Department in connection with the Department's investigations and the special counsel's investigation. In order for you to be fully advised on the issues and facts as they arise, to enable you to make the legal, policy and strategic decisions necessary for the Department, you must be able to participate and freely receive information and advice on any and all of the individual investigations. Based on the advice from the Principal Associate Deputy Attorney General, I conclude that it is not necessary at this time that you meet or communicate with your former firm, should they make such a request. If direct contact with Department officials other than OPR is determined to be in the Department's interest, other officials in the leadership offices would be available to meet with your former firm.

Executive Order 13490, Ethics Commitments by Employees in the Executive Branch

The Executive Order provides that a political appointee will not, for a period of two years from the date of appointment, participate in any particular matter involving specific parties that is directly and substantially related to the appointee's former employer or former clients, including regulations and contracts. Sec. 1, paragraph 2. The Executive Order further provides that "particular matter involving specific parties" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the ethics regulations at 5 C.F.R. § 2641.201(h), except that it shall also include "any meeting or other communication relating to the performance of one's official duties with a former employer or former client, unless the communication applies to a particular matter of general applicability and participation in the meeting or other event is open to all interested parties." E.O. 13490, Sec. 2(h).

E.O. 13490 references the following definition provided in the standards of conduct (however, the E.O. specifically includes regulations and contracts):

5 C.F.R. § 2641.201(h)(1): Particular matter involving a specific party or parties - (1) Basic concept. The prohibition applies only to communications or appearances made in connection with a "particular matter involving a specific party or parties." Although the statute defines "particular matter" broadly to include "any investigation, application, request for a ruling or determination, rulemaking, contract, controversy, claim, charge, accusation, arrest, or judicial or other proceeding," 18 U.S.C. 207(i)(3), only those particular matters that involve a specific party or parties fall within the prohibition of section 207(a)(1). Such a matter typically involves a specific proceeding affecting the legal rights of the parties or an isolatable transaction or related set of transactions between identified parties, such as a specific contract, grant, license, product application, enforcement action, administrative adjudication, or court case.

The E.O. provides for waiver of the recusal provisions by the Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) or his designee, in consultation with the Counsel to the President or his designee. E.O. 13490, Sec. 3(a). The Director, OMB, has designated the Designated Agency Ethics Official (DAEO) of each executive branch agency to exercise the Sec. 3 waiver authority, in writing, and in consultation with the Counsel to the President.

Specific Waiver Request

The Stevens prosecution has raised important issues concerning how the Department conducts its operations, including questions of the Department's ability to investigate allegations of misconduct by its own attorneys. These issues have been raised and are being debated in a very public way, and they go to the heart of the Department's ability achieve its mission of evenhanded enforcement of the law. Given the significant public interest involved in these proceedings, it is vital that you be able to exercise your leadership role in this matter.

The standard for waiving the restriction in the E.O. is that it be in the public interest. E.O. 13490, Sec. 3. I believe that it directly serves the public interest that the Department have the benefit of your participation in this case, given the institutional interest of the Department, the important legal, policy and strategic considerations, and your knowledge of the case. I certify that it is in the public interest that you be able to participate in the investigation of relating to the matter of In Re: Special Proceedings.

Subject: Waiver under E.O. 13490 and Determination under 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502

5 C.F.R. § 2635.502

The standard of conduct at 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502 requires an employee to take appropriate steps to avoid an appearance of loss of impartiality in the performance of his official duties. Under Section 502, where an employee knows that a person with whom he has a "covered relationship" is a party or represents a party to the matter, he should not participate in the matter without informing an agency official and receiving authorization to participate. Included in the definition of a "covered relationship" is any person for whom the employee served, within the preceding year, as officer, director, trustee, general partner, agent, attorney, consultant, contractor, or employee. 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502(b)(1)(iv).

You have a covered relationship with your former firm, Covington & Burling. However, the firm undertook this representation after you left, so you had no involvement during the time you were a partner with the firm. Under the standard, I conclude that a reasonable person would not question the integrity of the Department's programs and operations based on your participation in the investigation of a Department attorney represented by your former firm, and that should such questions arise, the Department's interest in your participation outweighs any possible concern.

WAIVER: I hereby certify that it is in the public interest for you as Attorney General to participate in the investigation of a Department attorney who is represented by your former firm, in connection with In Re: Special Proceedings, as discussed above, and pursuant to E.O. 13490 Sec. 3(a), I waive the restriction in Section 1 of E.O. 13490, on participation in a specific party matter that is directly and substantially related to your former employer, Covington & Burling, except that you will not have any direct contact with Covington & Burling. We have consulted with the Office of the Counsel to the President concerning this waiver. Further, I hereby determine, under 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502, that the interest of the Department in your participation in this case outweighs any possible concern that a reasonable person may question the Department's programs and operations.
